

OCTOBER

Scholarships to Note

Below are only some of the scholarship deadlines coming up in the next few months. To find out about these and other scholarships, please visit <http://opsf.byu.edu>

Spencer Foundation Dissertation Fellowship

Looking to do research? This fellowship funds individuals whose dissertations show potential for bringing fresh and constructive perspectives to a wide range of subjects.

Deadline: October 21, 2009.

National Science Foundation

The NSF offers 900 fellowships for students who wish to pursue research-based masters or doctoral degrees in the fields of Chemistry, Computer & Information Science, Engineering, Geosciences, Life Sciences, Mathematics, Physics, Astronomy and the Social Sciences.

Deadline: November 2—November 14, 2009 (Deadlines vary according to discipline)

Critical Language Scholarships for Intensive Summer Institutes

The U.S. State Department offers fully funded intensive overseas language study for Arabic, Bangla/Bengali, Hindi Turkish, Urdu, Chinese, Korean, Persian, and Russian.

Deadline: November 14, 2009

Harry S. Truman

Are you planning on working in civil or public service? The Truman funds graduate school for students who plan to pursue a career in public service.

BYU Deadline: November 16, 2009.

Hertz Foundation Fellowship

The Hertz Foundation Fellowship provides fellowships tenable at three dozen of the nation's finest universities for graduate work leading to a Ph.D. degree in applications of the physical sciences.

Deadline: November 16, 2009

DAAD German Study Abroad

The DAAD funds study, research, and language acquisition in Germany.

Deadlines: Early to Mid November (See Website for Details)

Barry M. Goldwater Scholarship

The Goldwater Scholarship awards $7,500 to sophomores and juniors majoring in science, mathematics, engineering or those who plan to pursue a research-based career.

Deadline: December 19, 2009

Institute for Humane Studies

This fellowship provides $12,000 for students who have clearly demonstrated research interest in the intellectual and institutional foundations of a free society. Available for juniors, seniors and graduate students.

Deadline: December 31, 2009

Office of Prestigious Scholarships & Fellowships

102B MSRB 801-422-6136

prestigious_scholarships@byu.edu